

Rapid Qualitative Methods for Implementation Practice Learning Hub

VA

U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs
Veterans Health Administration
Quality Enhancement Research Initiative

About the Hub:

The Rapid Qualitative Methods for Implementation Practice Learning Hub is designed to increase the knowledge and skills of those who are utilizing rapid qualitative methods across diverse clinical settings and patient and staff populations. We are dedicated to improving the rigor of rapid qualitative methods across both research and quality improvement/operations projects, through rigorous data collection and analysis. Enhancing the quality and rigor of rapid qualitative methods will not only serve to set health-system standards but will also allow research to better serve our overall mission of improving Veterans' health and the VA as a learning health system. It will also place VA at the forefront of innovative qualitative health services and implementation research and quality improvement, thereby ensuring Veterans consistently receive evidence-based care.

Features:

- Comprehensive needs assessment of mixed methods needs among VA investigators and staff
- VA-tailored trainings and web-based resources
- Best-practices guidance, including guidance for teams, proposals, and products
- National Qualitative Methods Learning Collaborative
- Opportunities for workshopping VA rapid qualitative projects
- Trouble-shooting support related to qualitative methods issues such as transcription and software

Who Should Use the Hub's Services?

VA investigators, staff, implementation practitioners, operations partners interested in using rapid qualitative methods to inform research and quality improvement/operations projects.

VA QUERI
Rapid Qualitative Methods
Learning Hub

VA Quality Enhancement Research Initiative

Faculty

Alison B. Hamilton,
PhD, MPH

Amanda Midboe, PhD

Erin Finley, PhD,
MPH

Allison Lewinski,
PhD

Andrea Nevedal,
PhD

Christine Kowalski, MPH

For additional information, contact
Christine Kowalski at
Christine.Kowalski@va.gov

Principal Investigators:

Alison B. Hamilton, PhD, MPH
VA Greater LA Healthcare System

Amanda Midboe, PhD
VA Palo Alto Healthcare System